Our Story

In 1953, a small group of parents in the Eastern and Southern suburbs of Sydney banded together to establish a special school for their children with disabilities. They purchased “Windgap”, a Coogee property, as their first site.

Since that time, the organisation has grown to offer a diverse range of training, accommodation, day programs, employment and community support to people with disabilities. Our services now operate from a number of sites with our Head Office located at Eastlakes. As a not-for-profit organisation, Windgap has established an excellent reputation within the disability sector as a service provider of choice.

Our Vision

To Champion the cause of people with an intellectual disability.
